WOULD COMPEL CAR SERVICE TO DEPOTS
Carthage, Mo., Jan. 22.—The first step necessary for starting mandamus proceedings against the Southwest Missouri Railroad Company to force it to re-establish service between the Carthage square and the Missouri Pacific and Frisco depots, was taken by the city council last night.
Acting upon a suggestion of the city attorney, the council instructed the city clerk to notify the street car company to resume the depot service by February 1. According to G. W. Crowder, city attorney, this move was necessary before the actual filing of the mandamus suit, which he intends to do unless the company complies with the order.
When the street car company discontinued this service the city at once took the question up with the Missouri public service commission. That body, however, ruled it had no jurisdiction in the case.

THE OZARK FAIR ASSOCIATION
Much Interest Shown in the Big Fair Movement for Southwest Missouri.
Springfield, Mo., Jan. 22.—That the citizenship of the counties comprising the Ozark Fair Association are vitally interested in the coming Ozarks Fair was manifested by two enthusiastic meetings, which were held at Galena, in Stone county, and Aurora, in Lawrence county, last week. About forty guests partook of luncheon at the Cottage hotel, Galena, at noon, which was followed by an enthusiastic meeting held at the Masonic hall. Addresses were delivered by William H. Seed, secretary of the Ozark Fair Association, Edmund A. Steckel, a member of the executive committee of the Ozarks Fair Association, Jesse A. Tolerton, a banker of Springfield and several local men. Enthusiasm ran high and the majority of the gentlemen present subscribed for stock in the Association and each one pledged himself as an enthusiastic booster for the Fair. Assurance was given that Stone county would subscribe for two thousand dollars of stock and committees were appointed to solicit the same. Mr. G. W. Hendricks presided as chairman of the meeting.
The Aurora banquet was attended by about fifty business men and farmers of Aurora and vicinity, addresses being delivered by Mr. Seed, Mr. Steckel, Mr. M. T. Davis, Mr. Zach Galloway, Major Loy, Hon. T. A. Miller and others. The meeting was presided over by Henry L. Davis, vice president for Lawrence county. Expressions of approval were given from nearly everyone present; stock subscribed, and a soliciting committee composed of Hon. T. A. Miller, T. E. McClure and W. F. Phelps was appointed. It is expected that Lawrence county will provide for three thousand dollars worth of stock as their proportionate share of the one hundred thousand dollar corporation.
Communications are being received by the secretary from other counties asking for similar meetings and a schedule will be arranged which will cover the entire thirty counties within a short time.
Springfield solicitors are meeting with encouraging success and there is no doubt but what the amount assigned to Springfield will be raised in a short time. One of the important points which was developed in the county meetings in the past week is the fact that breeders of pure bred stock see the necessity of the Fair as an advertising feature where they may display their various herds and create a sale for the same. There are many herds of pure bred stock now being raised in the Ozarks and the owners are already grooming and fitting the same for the big show at Springfield in 1917.
